From the Last Client Meeting

From the last client meeting, we've confirmed the major functions of the website with you:

- Basic pages include Home Page, About Us, and Contact Us.
- Users sign up and log in
 - Validate the users/experts by registering with a mobile number
- Booking counselling services page
 - See a list of doctors
 - Go inside the doctor detail page
 - Book an appointment
- Discussion board page
 - Share
 - Like
 - Comment
 - Write a post on the discussion board
 - Create groups/communities
 - Privacy – Post Anonymously
- Blog with Expert-led content page
- Events page
 - Create events such as coffee meetups for others to join

Project Questions

- In the project brief, you mentioned that “The primary goal of WellSpace is to develop a multi-platform application focused initially on a website to provide users with a safe and supportive space...”
 - Does that mean we should make sure the website follows the responsive design?
 - Answer: focus on the website first
- We currently define two user roles regarding their access level to the website:
 - Admin
 - General users
 - Experts/Doctors
 - Anyone
 - So, would you like us to break down the General Users into more detailed roles or current arrangement is good enough?
 - About creating the expert-led content in the Blog page
 - Does it mean only the experts/doctors can create a blog post?
 - Answer: Yes!
- Could you provide some clarity on the term "curated challenges" mentioned in the project brief?
 - Is this related to the blog posts the experts/doctors going to create in the Blog page?
 - Answer: Yes!
- Do we need to include feedback from users?
 - We already plan to have a Contact Us page.
 - However, should we invite feedback from the website or the doctors?
 - Answer: feedback everything (maybe use the term “testimonial” instead)

Other Questions

- Can we record our client meeting from this Friday onwards?
- Contact Us page, we can contact admin

Note

The next meeting will be held on Mar 20, Friday at 10 am.
